WYOMING CITY WINS FROM SALT LAKE; HEARD IS RELECTED.

Wyoming City Wins From Salt Lake; Heard Is Relected.

Dwight R. Heard of Phoenix, Ariz., was relected president of the American National Livestock association at the annual convention held in nomination by Col. Ike Pryor, who withdrew from the race for the presidency Wednesday night. His nomination was seconded by A. A. Rick of Denver and by Tom Campbell of Phoenix, Ariz., who announced that the Arizona delegation would attend the next meeting instructed to vote for Col. Pryor for president.

Cheyenne Wins.
Cheyenne won the fight for the 1917 convention from Salt Lake City and Oklahoma City by a vote of 40 to 27. Cheyenne had been making a hard fight for the convention next year and had it won from the start.

Pryor Relected.
Col. Pryor was elected in nomination for the first vice presidency by James Callan, of Menard, Texas. The motion was seconded by Mr. DeBieles and by Gov. J. B. Kendrick of Wyoming. No opposition developed and both officers were elected by acclamation.

Second Vice Presidents.
The second vice presidents who served last year were reelected. They are: Gov. J. B. Kendrick of Sheridan, Wyo.; C. M. O'Donnell of Bell Ranch, N. M.; K. Parsons of Salt Lake City, Utah; Wallis Hurdekoper of Wallace, Mont.; Isaac Rasmussen of Meeker, Colo.; J. Tod of Maple Hill, Kas.; E. L. Burke of Omaha, Neb. was elected a second vice president in addition to those who served last year.

Subscriptions were taken from the delegates for carrying on the work of the association. H. A. Jastro of Bakersfield, Cal. subscribed $1000. The Texas Cattle Raisers' association subscribed $500.

$15,000 Raised.
Over $15,000 was raised by popular subscription within 20 minutes. Dr. S. F. Tolmie, vice president of the Western Canada Live Stock Union, read a paper on "Live Stock Conditions in Western Canada." Dr. Tolmie was on the program for the first day, but his paper was not read because of the outbreak of a fire in the hotel where he was staying. He did not reach El Paso until Thursday noon. According to Dr. Tolmie the problems and conditions of the stockmen of western Canada are similar to those in the United States. Great progress has been made in the last few years in the United States in fighting disease in Canada.

Grazing Land Laws.
A resolution was adopted urging congress to enact legislation which will enable the secretary of the interior to classify the remaining public domain lands suitable for agriculture and stock raising homesteads, upon which crops or forage can be raised, in tracts of such size as will be suitable for a family, and into lands suitable only for grazing, and that after these lands have been classified, such areas be made available for grazing and for the production of livestock shall be placed under such government supervision as congress deems most desirable.

Mayor Thanked.
A resolution was passed thanking Mayor Tom Leach, the chamber of commerce, El Paso women and all those who contributed to the success of the convention; also a resolution thanking the National Wool Growers' association for its cooperation.

Carrying out the report of the marketing committee, which was endorsed by resolution adopted Thursday morning, president Heard, shortly before midnight, announced the committee of five that will have in charge the work of studying marketing conditions. The committee members are: Col. Ike Pryor, of San Antonio, Texas; H. A. Jastro of Bakersfield, Cal.; Gov. J. B. Kendrick of Wyoming; A. E. DeBieles, of Denver, and J. L. Burke, of Omaha.

New Executive Committee.
President Heard also announced the following additions to the personnel of the executive committee: W. G. Comstock, Ellsworth, Neb.; Ray Morley, Dayton, N. J.; H. W. Lynch, Playto, Cal.; Albert B. Kent, Acacia, Nev.; A. B. Robertson, Slarton, Texas, and E. C. Lassiter, Fullerton, Texas.

Evidence of the fact that the association is in earnest in its move to study marketing conditions is shown by the fact that at an informal meeting at the Texas Grand theater immediately following the close of the 1916 convention Thursday afternoon, $56,990 was pledged by individual members towards financing the work.

Last night at approximately 11 A. M. Jastro, of California, briefly addressed the convention, calling attention to the need of a fund with which to finance the work of the special marketing committee appointed at the meeting. Between $5,000 and $20,000 would be needed, he stated. Accordingly after the meeting the members gathered on the stage and $75,000 was pledged. The leaders in this contribution being little doubt but that $150,000 can be raised.

Bar Packing Houses.
The committee is authorized to employ the best legal talent and instructed to investigate the advisability of seeking relief through the federal trade commission, through anti-trust laws. The committee may apply for legislation such as would enable states to police stockyards and packing houses from doing business in a state where their methods are illegal or objectionable.

The convention has gone on record as favoring action that will divert the packers of ownership or operation of union stockyards and packing houses to stock exchanges in cattle market centers.

Women's Auxiliary.
The women's auxiliary to the American National Live Stock association was organized in the parlors of the Plaza Hotel Thursday afternoon, with Mrs. A. W. Morgan, of Wilcox, Ariz., as president, and Mrs. H. D. Johnson, of Albuquerque, as secretary. The object of the association is to assist and cooperate with the stockmen as far as possible in carrying out the work of the association and to develop the social side of the annual conventions.

The auxiliary will meet each year at the time of the American National Live Stock association convention.

The convention delegates are leaving for their homes, the trains leaving El Paso Thursday night and Friday morning being crowded with cattle-men.

Market Committee.
The newly appointed committee to investigate marketing conditions issued a statement Thursday night setting forth the conditions as they exist and the objects of the committee. The statement states that the marketing interests of the country are in control of practically all the stockyards at the market centers, and that the marketing and terminal facilities. In a large measure they are also in control of banks.

Executive Committee Meets.
The national executive committee was in session for some time Thursday night. T. V. Tomson, of Denver, was relected secretary and his salary increased from $6000 to $7000 per year. John W. Springer, of Denver, was relected treasurer, and Sam H. Cowan, of Fort Worth, was retained as attorney.

The following committee was appointed to go to Washington and appear before the senate committee on the grazing homestead bill: W. W. Tomlinson, of Denver; J. C. Underwood, of Underwood, Wyo.; A. E. DeBieles, of Denver, and E. H. Crabbe, of Flagstaff, Ariz.

Mexican Committee Not Named.
President Heard still has under consideration the personnel of the committee which will name under the terms of the resolution asking patrol of the Mexican border. The resolution calls for the appointment of three per-

ANTI-DUMPING LAW MAY BE PROVED A BOOMERANG TO THE UNITED STATES IF IT IS ATTEMPTED.

May Prove a Boomerang to the United States if It Is Attempted.

New Orleans, La., Jan. 28.—In a paper on "The Problem of Anti-Dumping Legislation," Henry C. Emery, former chairman of the United States tariff board, told the National Foreign Trade convention here last night that selling goods in one market cheaper than in another was not economical sound and that the United States should not hastily adopt any "anti-dumping policy" which would force other nations to retaliate against American manufacturers, many of which are sold cheaper abroad than at home.

He said: "The real danger which threatens us after the European war is not that European manufacturers will sell goods in our market below their own cost of production, but that they will sell goods below our cost." Discussing the proposal of secretary of commerce to establish a commission to investigate dumping of foreign goods in the American market by a law holding such practice to be "unfair competition," Mr. Emery said: "We are in a peculiar position. In general, our domestic prices are relatively so high that the foreign manufacturer can commonly meet the situation by offering his goods at his regular home prices. On the other hand, prices in foreign markets are largely driven by the sheer force of international competition to sell his surplus at some reduction."

"For this reason, I believe the movement for an anti-dumping law may prove dangerous to American exporters. Is the real problem to stop practices based on the immoral competition of foreigners or to protect ourselves against practices injurious to us, whether immoral or moral? If we resort to schemes as dumping legislation do not meet the issue, what does? I think the answer is to be found in a flexible tariff."

Fears Allies in Trade.
That the European allies of war will become allies in peace and adopt preferential tariff policies to help each other discharge war indebtedness and extend foreign trade and that the United States tariff system should be rendered more flexible to extend American trade and protect it from discrimination, were the conclusions reached by Willard Straight, vice president of the American International corporation, of New York, the new $50,000,000 organization for international development of overseas commerce, in an address before the National Foreign Trade convention here tonight. Said Mr. Straight:

"It might be well if the president were given power to recommend the modification of the tariff commission to impose by proclamation an increase of duties, limited, say to 15 percent of the present duties on any or all of the products imported from any country which, in his judgment, unduly discriminates against American products."

"An alternative suggestion is the establishment of a dual or conventional tariff system with one general schedule from which concessions to a lower level on specified articles, might be extended to countries enjoying the United States reciprocal treatment. This is a conciliatory method, but it is doubtful if it can be employed under any tariff system which places upon the free list, without any return whatever, a larger range of the products of the countries which discriminate against consumers of American products."

President Heard is still in El Paso, but will probably leave later in the day. Col. Ike Pryor, vice president, will remain until Saturday. Secretary Tolmie will be in El Paso a short time closing up matters in connection with the late convention. Gov. J. B. Kendrick, of Wyoming, left for Cheyenne Thursday night.

Use Coconut Oil For Washing Hair

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain mulitised coconut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than any other soap or shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair. Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff, and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulitised coconut oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.—Advertisement.
